President Maimon Accepts Mayor Emmanuel's Challenge to Support Star Scholars

GSU was the first public university to respond to Chicago Mayor Rahm Emanuel's recent challenge to join the University of Illinois Chicago in developing an alliance with Chicago City Colleges' Star Scholarship students. In a Letter to the Editor of the Chicago Tribune, President Maimon accepted the mayor's challenge and announced that GSU has already initiated talks with CCC to provide a special opportunity to the Star Scholars. The scholars are graduates of more than 100 Chicago public high schools. They earned scholarships to attend CCC for free because of excellent grades and demonstrated ability in college-level math and English courses. Five other area universities have joined GSU to support the Star Scholars.

National Depression Screening Day October 8

To increase awareness and encourage early intervention for mood and anxiety disorders, GSU is hosting a campus-wide National Depression Screening Day® event Thursday, October 8 from 10 a.m.-7 p.m. in the Hall of Governors. "Increasing numbers of college students are arriving on campus with mental health issues," said Emily Petkus, clinical mental health counselor in the Academic Resource Center. "Our goals for this event are to help identify students who may be struggling with depression or other mood disorders and connect them with quality treatment options early on."

Similar to many physical illnesses, early recognition and treatment offers the best opportunity for recovery from mental illness. The anonymous and confidential screening tool is designed to help students examine any thoughts or behaviors that may be associated with depression, generalized anxiety disorder, bipolar disorder, or posttraumatic stress disorder. After completing the self-assessment, students will be able to talk to a mental health professional and receive treatment information through the Student Counseling Center if necessary. Contact Emily Petkus for more information.

Report: GSU is Safest Public University Campus in Illinois

October 07, 2015

James R. McGee, Chief of the GSU Police Department

There is no greater concern on college campuses in the U.S. than safety. In the Annual Security and Fire Report, Governors State University ranks as the safest public university campus in Illinois.

"If you include public university campuses in northwest Indiana, we're still number one. Safety is a big priority here," said James R. McGee, Chief of the GSU Police Department.

Information about crime is gathered from University Police crime statistics, University employees, campus judicial records, Governors State University Police, and University Park Police.

Chief McGee said that he is proud of the role the GSU Police Department has played in keeping the campus safe, but stressed that everyone at GSU should be credited with being diligent regarding safety. "Community involvement is the key to reducing crime," he said.

For more information on how you can help GSU continue to be a safe campus, visit the Campus Safety website.

GSU-PSC Male Success Initiative Signed at Summit

October 07, 2015

GSU-PSC Male Success Initiative Signed at Summit

Thursday, October 1 marked the signing of the Dual Degree Program-Male Success Initiative (DDP-MSI), a groundbreaking commitment between GSU and Prairie State College that will create a model for the community college-to-university pathway for male success. At a day-long summit, keynote speaker Dr. Shaun R. Harper, the nationally-renowned expert on male success, said the initiative could become “a model for the nation.”

Click above for Dr. Shaun R. Harper's interview at Governors State University

The agreement forming the DDP-MSI was signed by GSU President Elaine P. Maimon and Prairie State College Terri L. Winfree at the summit in the Center for Performing Arts attended by GSU and PSC students, faculty, staff, and administrators.

The DDP-MSI expands the DDP partnership between the two schools to link the Male Success Initiatives on both campuses to multiply their impact. The goal of the new endeavor is to increase the number of men of color who enroll in the DDP at Prairie State, help them to earn their associate degrees, then transfer to GSU (or any other university that best meets their academic needs) and graduate with their baccalaureate degrees.

“You have an opportunity to inspire the nation,” said Harper, the Executive Director of the Center for the Study of Race and Equity in Education at the University of Pennsylvania, and a leader in research and practice in this field. He has published 12 books and more than 90 peer-reviewed journal articles and other academic publications. His Eight Standards for Black Male Campus Initiatives were used in the year-long process of developing the comprehensive DDP-MSI Strategic Plan. “If we could get more colleges to spend a year developing an initiative the way you have, we would close the male success gaps that exist today,” he said.

Harper said he is encouraged by the GSU-PSC initiative because of the commitment shown by the leaders of both institutions. “So many times male success initiatives fail because leadership is not intimately involved. That is not the case here. This is what happens when institutions work from a hopeful place.”

Family & Friends Weekend, October 8 – 10

October 07, 2015

This is it! Family and Friends Weekend is October 8–10. There are lots of exciting events planned, and it all starts tomorrow with a Pep Rally in the Hall of Governors from 3:30-4 p.m. The 2nd annual Jaguar Jamboree begins at 5 p.m. in the gym, where the fall sports teams will be introduced followed by scrimmage games with our men's and women's basketball teams. Wear your GSU gear and bring your school spirit! But that's just the beginning! There is even a Family and Friends App, developed by Professor Steve Hyzny and student Reddysagar Chenchu Akkaru.

On Friday from 6:30-9 p.m., the colleges have joined together to create the "Generation Meet and Greet: All College Alumni Social," a festive and exciting evening for our alumni. Also on Friday, at 7:30 p.m., join us for GSU's first-ever Step Show featuring Power 92 "The Hot Boys."

Saturday's events feature something for everyone: the Athletic and Recreation Center will be open all day; join us from 8:30-10 a.m. for "Run, Walk, Stroll, Roll," a non-competitive, go-at-your-own-pace look around GSU's grounds, or enjoy an Open Swim from 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

From 10 a.m.-noon, join President Maimon while listening to the smooth sounds of live jazz for the President's Brunch in the E-Lounge.

Be sure to bring the kids because Saturday's events also feature Story Time Wonderland in the GSU

Library from 11 a.m.-1 p.m.; Open House at the Family Development Center from 11 a.m.-2 p.m., and Face Painting, a Photo Booth, Caricature Artist, Magical Balloons, and a Stuff-a-Bear workshop, all from noon-5 p.m. There is also a screening of the movie “Minions” at 3 p.m. in Engbretson Hall.

There is plenty of adult fun scheduled too! From 1-3 p.m., there will be BINGO in Engbretson Hall, a Quiz Bowl Game Show in F-1622, and a Library Scavenger Hunt that will keep everyone involved in the fun.

Be sure to “Make Your Move” beginning at 2 p.m. in the gym for Steppin’, Salsa, and Line Dancing. From 1-4 p.m., head out to the Nathan Manilow Sculpture Park for “Reclaim the Prairie.” Sow seed, view modern sculpture, and warm up with hot cider and pumpkin squares.

Don’t miss the Student Variety Show hosted by Comedian “Just Nesh,” Saturday night at 7 p.m. in the CPA.

Registration is free for parents, family members, alumni, and friends of GSU. Participants will also be able to register on site. Space is limited for some events, and there is a minimal cost for some activities. Download a copy of the event brochure.

High School Students Learn about GSU's BAMB Program at Manufacturing Event

Illinois Lieutenant Governor Evelyn Sanguinetti (L) and Dr. Jun Zhao (R) at the the 2015 Manufacturing Day

Dr. Ellen Foster Curtis, Dean of the College of Business, and Dr. Jun Zhao, MME Division Chair attended the 2015 Manufacturing Day event held at Bloom High School in Chicago Heights on October 1. More than 200 students from 19 area high schools attended. Illinois Lieutenant Governor Evelyn Sanguinetti gave opening remarks. A panel discussion followed, with representatives from the Illinois Department of Commerce and Economic Opportunity, area manufacturing companies, and faculty and administrators from GSU, South Suburban College, and Prairie State College.

Dr. Zhao spoke to the students about the new Bachelor of Arts in Manufacturing Management (BAMB) program offered by GSU. The BAMB program is designed for graduates of the various Associate of Applied Science (AAS) manufacturing programs at community colleges. It builds on those programs' technical specialty and practical experience in various manufacturing fields, and provides a solid foundation in business knowledge. It also provides students with the skillsets needed to advance their careers in the manufacturing sector.

Dr. Zhao encouraged students to start their journey in manufacturing today by enrolling in internship programs at their high schools, and start taking courses that will transfer to community colleges. She welcomed the students to explore the seamless transfer opportunities GSU has created with its partner schools such as PSC and SSC, and take advantage of the dual degree program offered to qualified students at GSU.
